New Series of Farm Catalogues by a Husting Catalogue.

The remarkable increase in demand for farm land and farm houses during the past few years has led to many marked changes in the methods employed by brokers who handle agricultural land exclusively to serve their customers. Several farm agencies issue elaborate yearly catalogues of farming land for sale in various sections of the country, many of them gotten up at considerable expense and in the most artistic form; but all of these are inappreciable in light of the latest innovation. This is a series of twelve catalogues a year, one of which is published every month in the year, by the E. A. Simon Company, with headquarters in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and branch offices throughout the eastern states. The March issue, the first of the series, has just been put in circulation. It bears the title "Strout's Monthly Bulletin of Farm Bargains," and is in two volumes, one for New England states and the other for those states to the south and west. The monthly is an illustrated booklet of the usual magazine size. Succeeding issues will appear on the first of every month.

BROADWAY THEATER.

"The Traveling Salesman."

HERBERT CORTELL.

As "Bob Blood" in "The Traveling Salesman."

Henry B. Harris will produce at the Broadway Theater this evening "The Traveling Salesman," the latest comedy of James F. Powers, author of "The Chorus Lady," with a cast of unusual excellence, including such well known players as Herbert Cortell, Rosalind Coghill, Diana Hunter, James O'Neill, Jr., Emmet Shackelford, William Robert Day, Marion Stephens, Robert Dudley, Buck Sheffer, Lawrence Sheehan, Daniel Jarrett, William Schroeder and those two clever child actors, Viola Savoy and Master Thomas Todd. The story is related by widely contrasting types of villagers and drammers. Without question more laughs than any play seen in years, and to the added theatergoer, tired of dissipation on intricate problems of sex, the advent of Mr. Powers' comedy success in this city should be awaited with interest.

BREED THEATER.

High Class Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs.

Again the seating capacity of Breed Theater was taxed to the utmost, when the big audience was present to witness the fine feature bill of the week. The Cord of Life and The Inmate have been the drawing cards for the latter half of the week, and together with Mrs. Jones Entertainers, has proven a most profitable one to the management. The Girl at the Old Mill is the feature picture of this week, and is a thousand feet in length. It is very much in the style of Shores Acres and Way Down East, and is a drama of intense heart interest, dealing as it does with the problems of sex, the advent of Mr. Forbes' comedy success in this city should be awaited with interest.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams is intensely dramatic, while another dramatic one is "The Cord of Life." The comedy films include Sammy Celebrates, Nick Carter's Double, Calling Day, and A Rude Awakening.

At Shedd's This Week.

With new pictures and a new, bright and entertaining vaudeville show for this week the Auditorium is sure to be taxed to capacity. The new bill of vaudeville is one of the best selected by the king of them all, M. R. Shedd.

January and Hayes, although seen here before, are old-time favorites, and with a new line of songs and dances are sure to be welcome. Maud Worth in a new bit of monologue and the best line of parodies being put out over the footlights is sure to be a savvy also. The blackface musician, George Devere, with his best friend, the banjo, will show some of the most talented musicians how fast they must go. Ramezied sisters and Ramfied will be the one surprising feature of all the vaudeville acts ever seen at Shedd's. When they come to dancing the sisters, who appear as tops, begin where all others leave off. They are to introduce to Norwich theatergoers the most and best routine of work before the public today.

Roderick Theater.

As usual, the Roderick has its large crowds Saturday, and the bill for this week will no doubt bring large crowds, as the bill is one of unusual merit. For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the feature picture will be Maggie, the Dock Rat, a thrilling tale of the ways of life in a big city and a young girl dealing with a bunch of crooks. Other picture plays are The Hansers, a beautiful story of college life; The Wrong Valley, one of the funniest screen ever shown; The Putt Putt Job, another comedy; and Saved by His Dog, a tale of a dog's love for his master. Mr. O'Neill will sing a catchy song, "The March of the Boys," and the sides of the song alone are worth the price of admission to see them.

THE BARLEBEN

STRING QUARTETTE.

Last Number in the Young People's Course in Danielson Town Hall Wednesday Evening, March 10.

The first entertainment in the Young People's course will be given in Town hall next Wednesday evening, March 10. The change of date will be noticed. This quartette, says the Boston Globe, proved one of the biggest features of the bill at Keith's. Their really high class playing brings them round after round of genuine applause.

Of Mr. Barleben, the violin virtuoso, the Boston Herald writes: "Mr. Barleben made a decided success with Tchaikowsky's violin concerto. The audience appreciated both the work and the interpretation, and Mr. Barleben was recalled over and over again with great enthusiasm."

Another Boston musical critic says of Mr. Barleben:

"The Third of the Sunday concert at Chickering hall, organized and directed by Mr. Miran C. Tucker, was, in a sense, a record breaker. Mr. Barleben proved last Sunday that he is probably the crack violin virtuoso of the whole Symphony. His recent appearance made one forget not only every local favorite, but also such lights as Yeave-Kabell, and Kroll. The power of his performance, his full and intelligent grasp of the composer's meaning, his clear, sympathetic and convincing interpretation, and the sincere and deep emotional quality of his playing stirred the large audience to a point of enthusiasm seldom witnessed at a concert in this city."

This is to be one of the finest concert ever given in Town hall and will undoubtedly be patronized by a large audience.

In addition to the Barleben company there has been secured Fred Kemml, humorist, a very delightful and popular reader.

EVENING SCHOOL CLOSED.

Successful Term of Seventy-Five Nights Ended at Danbury.

Says the Danbury News:

The evening school, which has been held in the high school building this week, closed last night after completing its seventy-five nights which the law provided the school must be held. It has been a very successful school and the attendance and the term has been somewhat of an increase over last year.

The school has been in charge of William Billings, the head of the commercial department of the high school, and he had as his assistants Miss Fannie Paulicovich, Miss Anna Welch and Mrs. Harry M. Brownlow.

A large proportion of the students during the term have been foreign born and many of them have been learning to speak and write English. The commercial department has been attended by a goodly number of young people who desired to learn bookkeeping and stenography, but because they were working were unable to attend the day school.

Dirty Children to Be Excluded from Schools.

Superintendent Willard has called the Stamford school board's attention to the filthy condition of some children attending the schools. He has decided to instruct the teachers to exclude from the sessions any children whose presence in this respect is objectionable.

JUNK YARDS

To Be Inspected Weekly by Bridgeport Bill Passes.

John A. Leonard, business manager for the Eaton, Cole & Burnham company of Bridgeport, appeared before the judicial committee in Hartford the other day on a bill regarding junk dealers. A provision of the bill requires a weekly inspection of junk yards by the police. Charles W. Cross of Hartford asked for a later hearing. A number of Bridgeport manufacturers are said to favor this measure, who have suffered much loss through the depredations of thieves. It is believed that such thefts would in a large measure be prevented if the thieves found it more difficult to dispose of their stolen wares.

Odd Fellows' Temple.

The land owned by Mrs. Charlotte Schacter at the corner of Main and South Elm streets, Bristol, has been sold to a syndicate composed mostly of Bristol people. It is the intention of the company to apply for a charter and incorporate a building association and erect an Odd Fellows' temple on the site.

"Dignity is What We Use To Conceal Our Ignorance"

is Albert Hubbard's definition of the word dignity. Unquestionably Albert is correct, and every thinking person will agree with him. Think of the people with dignity and count those having it naturally. It is who has it naturally combined with ability, is a great success in life. Those with assumed dignity are—well, they are understood and discounted by the public. We've no dignity, natural or assumed, and if it is as attempted by us the public would discount it. "Dignity is What We Use To Conceal Our Ignorance" is Albert Hubbard's definition of the word dignity. Unquestionably Albert is correct, and every thinking person will agree with him. Think of the people with dignity and count those having it naturally. It is who has it naturally combined with ability, is a great success in life. Those with assumed dignity are—well, they are understood and discounted by the public. We've no dignity, natural or assumed, and if it is as attempted by us the public would discount it. Let the public estimate us correctly; give us credit for a thorough knowledge of the photographic business; for doing work at reasonable prices. Years of experience in this business exclusively entitles us to it.
